

COX'S WORDS REVEAL HIM UNFIT; EDITOR SAT. EVENING POST

Says Candidate Has Queer Sense of Honor, Is Shallow Thinker.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, has given out the following reply to the statement made public Sunday night by Governor Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, relative to a cartoon to appear in this week's issue of the Post:

"There could be no better vindication of the cartoon and comment that will appear in this week's number of the Saturday Evening Post, no clearer demonstration of Governor Cox's unfitness for high office, than his misleading remarks on the advance copy of the weekly that has come into my possession."

Millionaire Publisher.

"Governor Cox is a millionaire newspaper editor and publisher, of long experience. He must, therefore, understand that it is a first point of honor among newspapermen not to make use of advance copies of publications that are sent out by the understanding that they will not be released until a fixed date in the future. He must know, as a publisher, that at the postal rate now being charged periodicals and newspapers, no question of a subsidy by the government is involved; that the periodicals are not only paying their way, but that under any kind of efficient administration in the postoffice there is a handsome profit in carrying them."

"Though the editor of the Saturday Evening Post has had something to say editorially on other sections of the revenue bill, he has accepted and consistently refrained from attacking the raise in postal rates even though he believes it unjust. If Governor Cox has studied the advertising columns of the Saturday Evening Post with the intelligence and knowledge that a man in his position should have, he must know that it has been the policy of that magazine to refuse casual advertising, growing out of the excess profits tax, and has insisted on well-considered, well formulated campaigns behind commodities that can use advertising profitably and economically."

No Outside Influence.

"The policy of the Saturday Evening Post is now and always has been formulated by its editor. Neither any politician nor group of politicians, nor any interest of any kind or description have suggested what stand it should take in this election or had anything whatsoever to do with influencing its policy."

"Given the same record and the Republican party in power, he would not hesitate to take as strong a position against a continuance of Republican rule."

Shallow Thinkers.

"Propaganda has come in the minds of shallow thinkers like Governor Cox to mean any view that does not square with theirs. Neither Governor Cox nor any other Democrat found anything savoring of 'disloyal propaganda' in the Saturday Evening Post's consistent and unwavering stand behind the president during the years of the great war."

MAJ. DALRYMPLE, DRY AGENT, QUILTS POST IN CHICAGO

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Major A. V. Dalrymple, prohibition enforcement officer in the central states district, has presented his resignation at Washington, it was announced at the federal building today.

Major Dalrymple is reported to have left for Washington to urge appointment of Frank D. Richardson, special agent of the Department of Justice, as his successor.

Major Dalrymple, who took office Jan. 16, when constitutional prohibition became effective, has repeatedly been under fire since early in his regime, when he announced a whiskey "rebellion" had broken out in Iron County, Michigan, and led a party of prohibition agents to the scene to put down the "outbreak."

Rumors have been current for months that he had resigned or would resign, but each time were denied. His territory includes Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

RAIN KEPT MANY FROM HEARING U. S. MARINE BAND

But Musicians Played a Most Pleasing Concert Anyway.

A slow drizzling rain which set in yesterday forenoon and continued throughout the day and until about 10 o'clock last evening, served as a damper on the crowd that was expected to come to Dixon to attend the concert given by the United States Marine band at the Assembly auditorium. The attendance was far from expectation but this had no effect upon the musicians who furnished a most enjoyable program.

Captain W. H. Santelmann and many of the members of his organization were in Dixon about six years ago. The organization is trained to a high point of perfection and each member is a musical genius. Musician Arthur S. Whitcomb, cornet soloist, was the favorite of the evening. In his solo number, "Arbucklinian," a most difficult solo selection, his rendition was perfect. He responded to a hearty encore with "My Rosary."

The ever popular sextette from Lucile de Lamoreaux was rendered as an encore number at the conclusion of the first part of the program. The response to encores was liberal, the band favoring in each instance. This morning the band went to Aurora, where they will appear this evening, then proceeding to the southern part of the state before starting back to Washington.

Chicago Cop Shot By Robber May Die

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Policeman Louis Woehr was shot early today while attempting to prevent a robbery of a medicinal liquor house. It is believed he will die. Upon investigating an alarm from the vicinity of the robbery Woehr encountered a "lookout." The two grappled and Woehr was shot in the back by a second robber.

MAIN ISSUE CENTERS ON RECOGNITION OF OUR CONSTITUTION

—GOV. COOLIDGE.

Says People Ask for Government of Law, Not of Men.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Oct. 26.—The Republican party "walks the high road of American government for Americans" and "the American people walk with that party," Governor Coolidge declared in a final pre-election statement made public here tonight.

The Republican vice presidential candidate said the issues of the campaign in the minds of most Americans have been reduced to one; the question whether "our government shall or shall not be a constitutional government, a government of laws and not of men."

"The Republican party," the candidate asserted, "stands upon the foundation of our American constitution. It will not depart from it. The Democratic party, under the spell of a dominating personality, has stepped down from that foundation, and points to a mirage in which there is no sustenance and no life."

"The shores of history are strewn with the wreckage of republics which fell before the ambitions of selfish despots, or which disintegrated beneath the blight of an unwise personal exaltation."

Issues are Simple

Governor Coolidge said.

"The issues of this campaign are so simple, and they are so well understood by the people, that there can be no doubt of the verdict which the voters will give on Nov. 2. These issues may be condensed, and in the minds of most Americans have been condensed, into one. That is, the question whether our government shall or shall not be a constitutional government, a government of laws and not of men."

"Every other consideration comes back to this. For unless we hold fast to those principles which are the heart and soul of our republic, it will matter little what else we do. It will avail us not at all to profess a great purpose in the affairs of our brother nations, if at home we have failed to maintain and apply our own proved righteousness of representative government."

"It matters little, in the final consequences, what may be the professions or the motives of those who seek by personal aggression to displace the authority of a free people exerted through tested and proved channels of representative and constitutional government. For constitutional government once destroyed cannot easily be restored. Forewarnings of disaster must be heeded, lest they are succeeded by a cancerous and fatal growth beyond the reaches of cure."

"The Republican party stands upon the foundation of our American constitution. It will not depart from it. The Democratic party, under the spell of a dominating personality, has stepped down from that foundation, and points to a mirage in which there is no sustenance and no life."

"The Republican party demands correction of all the ills which have been bred in the false doctrines of extra-constitutional government; it demands removal of burdens placed upon the people through disregard of the same function of government, functions which must be directed with wisdom and encompassed with thrift."

Waste Intolerable

"The world war has been ended for two years; yet the burdens of that war rest heavily upon the shoulders of the American people. Waste, which may be viewed with toleration under the stress of haste of war, cannot so be regarded in times of peace. We are at peace. The technicians of that situation do not remove the fact that we have no war with any land, nor do they alleviate the injury done the American people during the past two years, and before the war, under the administration of the executive department of the government by the Democratic party. Retention in government employ of vast numbers of employees the occasion for whose employment has passed; retention of taxes, devised for emergencies, beyond the period of their initiation and their necessity—these extravagances, coupled with such inefficiency as has been manifest in our postoffice department, such failure of co-operation as investigations have disclosed in the navy department, such injustices as have marred the war department, have aroused the people to an indignation which can be satisfied only by discharging those servants who have been unfaithful and discrediting at the polls those who would palliate their offenses and who would continue them."

"The second Republican lord mayor of Cork lies, as lays his predecessor, murdered by the British government. Cork is in mourning. Citizens, or any section of them, will take only authorized action. Orders will be issued by proper authority."

The body of Joseph Murphy, one of the hunger strikers in Cork jail who died last night was removed tonight to a church from which the funeral will be held tomorrow. With the exception of Kegan and Donovan, who are believed to be rapidly nearing death, doctors say there is still a chance to save the lives of the remaining hunger strikers, if they are released.

ARRANGE FOR FUNERAL

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, Oct. 27.—Relatives of Terence MacSwiney the late Lord Mayor of Cork who died in Brixton prison on Monday morning following a hunger strike, were today completing arrangements for the funeral of the Lord Mayor. It was expected the body would be turned over to them by government authorities following the autopsy, and plans already announced contemplate its removal to St. George's cathedral. It will probably remain there until Thursday when a quiet mass will be celebrated after which the funeral procession will start for Euston station.

The body is expected to reach Dublin early Friday and there will be received by various organizations.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Natives killed in Haiti during the five years of American occupation numbered 250, instead of 3250 as previously announced by the navy department it was disclosed at the opening public session today of the naval court of inquiry recently appointed by Secretary Daniels to investigate the conduct of the Marines in the island republic.

Brigadier General Barnett, former commandant of the corps, the first witness before the court, testified that a mistake in addition had led to the erroneous announcement. Major Edmund B. McClellan attached to the casualty record office of the corps, testified that only a very few of the natives killed had not fallen in action with the Marines or the gendarmes.

Tex Rickard, promoter and others interested in the bout, expressed surprise at Kearns' stand.

PRESIDENT APPEALS TO COUNTRYMEN TO RATIFY HIS LEAGUE

Talked to Delegation of Pro-League Republicans Today.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Oct. 27.—President Wilson speaking to a group of pro-league Republicans today at the White House, declared that "that so-called Americanism which we hear so much prating about now is spurious and invented for party purposes only."

Appearing for the completion of the great "moral achievement" which he said the war represented, the president asserted that "the war will have been fought in vain and our immense sacrifices thrown away unless we complete the work we then began."

The president warned his hearers not to be deceived into supposing that imperialistic schemes ended with the defeat of Germany or that Germany is the only nation that entertained such schemes or was moved by sinister ambitions and "now standing jealousies to attack the very structure of civilization."

Were Deeply Touched

In a formal statement issued after they left the White House, members of the delegation said they were "deeply touched by the physical appearance of the president who received them sitting and plainly showed the effects of his long illness and the tremendous strain which he has been carrying."

"He read from a manuscript his reply to the address of the deputation," the statement continued, "and was greatly moved as he did so. More than once his voice choked, especially when he referred to the soldier boys and the mothers of those who had fallen in battle."

"It was evident that he was voicing the profoundest emotions of his heart," the delegation added. "The whole occasion was unexpressibly solemn and tender."

It was evident that the president's intellectual powers were in no way impaired," the statement continued, but the deputation felt that it was nothing less than tragic that the great president of the United States should have been brought to such a stricken physical condition as the result of his indefatigable labor for his country and for humanity."

His Final Appeal

The delegation said they felt that this might be the president's final appeal to the conscience of his countrymen in the supreme moral decision that they are called upon to make.

The president said in part:

"We should not be deceived into supposing that imperialistic schemes ended with the defeat of Germany, or that Germany is the only nation that entertained such schemes or was moved by sinister ambitions and long standing jealousies to attack the very structure of civilization. There are other nations which are likely to be powerfully moved or are already moved by imperialistic jealousy, the desire to dominate and to have their own way in politics and in enterprise, and it is necessary to check them and to apprise them that the world will be united against them as it was against Germany if they attempt any sinister thing."

"The mother and sisters and wives of the country know the sacrifice of war. They will feel that we have misled them and compelled them to make an entirely unnecessary sacrifice of their loved ones if we do not make it as certain as it can be made that no similar sacrifice will be demanded of mothers and sisters and wives in the future."

"This duty is so plain that it seems to me to constitute a primary demand upon the conscience of every one of us. It is inconceivable to most of us that any men should have been so false or so heartless as to declare that the women of the country would again have to suffer the intolerable burden and privation of war if the League of Nations were adopted. The League of Nations is the well-considered effort to the whole group of nations who were opposed to Germany to secure themselves and the rest of mankind against a repetition of the war. It will have back of it the watchfulness and material force of all these nations, and is such a guarantee of a peaceful future as no well-informed man can question who does not doubt the whole spirit with which the war was conducted against Germany."

About Article X

"The great moral influence of the United States will be absolutely thrown away if we do not complete the task which our soldiers and sailors so heroically undertook to execute."

"One thing ought to be said, and said very clearly, about Article 10 of the covenant of the League of Nations. It is the specific pledge of the members of the league that they will unite to resist exactly the things which Germany attempted no matter who attempts them in the future. It is exact and definite and it can be given in general terms of the outrage which Germany would have committed if it could."

Make Good or Quit.

"We now have to choose whether we will make good or quit. We have joined issue, and the issue is between the spirit and purpose of the United States and the spirit and purpose of Germany."

SETTLEMENT IS NEAR IN GREAT BRITAIN STRIKE

Miner Committee Has Accepted Proposals of Premier.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, Oct. 27.—(By Associated Press)—A member of the miners' executive body informed the conference of Trade Union delegates here today that there was every prospect of terms for a settlement of the coal strike being reached tonight.

It is reported the miners' leaders have accepted the government's terms and will submit them to a conference of the miners' delegates. The mine owners also are said to have agreed to the government proposals.

EMBARGO IS RAISED.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, Oct. 27.—American shipping authorities here said this morning they expect that the embargo imposed with the inception of the coal strike would be removed today because of improvement in the situation.

This apparently refers to the British government order issued on Oct. 15 in connection with the embargo on the export of coal, prohibiting foreign ships from taking on bunker coal in British ports.

The conference among representatives of the government, the miners and the mine owners which were in progress during the day yesterday and into last evening were expected to be resumed at noon today.

To Deliver Ballots in County By Truck

For many years it has been customary to deliver the ballots and election supplies to the various voting precincts throughout the county in one day. An automobile has been pressed into service and with good roads has made all of the precincts in the county in a single day delivering ballots and supplies.

For the election next Tuesday, this plan will be abandoned and a new method adopted. Two big auto trucks will leave the court house at 7 o'clock Monday morning delivering ballots and supplies to the county precincts. One of these will go west, making Nelson, Harmon, Hamilton, East Grove, May, Sublette, Armo, Marion and South Dixon townships. The other will start east supplying the precincts in the east and south part of the county. The size of the ballot this year has made it necessary to adopt a new method of delivering supplies. Judges at the various precincts will have to deliver the ballots to the county clerk following the election and this duty will require additional physical exertion over any former election.

Hartzell to Operate Billiard Room Also

The city council last evening granted a license to John Hartzell to conduct a bowling alley at his place of business in the basement of the Rhodes building at 92 Galena avenue. Mr. Hartzell expects to install three alleys at once and will operate these in connection with his billiard room.

The council also granted and approved the bond furnished by Joseph E. Miller, recently appointed member of the police department who has taken up his duties and is now patrolling the downtown beat at night.

Next week each member of the club will be expected to bring a guest and an appropriate program is being arranged for the regular weekly meeting and luncheon which next week falls on election day.

GREECE FACING MANY PROBLEMS THRU DEATH OF KING ALEXANDER

Only Premier Venizelos is Forming Policy for New Government.

BULLETIN

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Athens, Oct. 27.—Instructions will be sent by the government today to the Greek minister at Bernes to present to Prince Paul, brother of the late King Alexander, the government's condolences, and to inform him that, according to the stipulations of the constitution, he has been called to succeed to the throne.

Owing to the present relations existing between the Greek nation and the house of the former King Constantine, the minister is requested to inform Prince Paul that before there is official proclamation of his accession to the throne, certain guarantees must be given.

These include the formal and irrevocable abdication of former King Constantine, renunciation by Prince George, Duke of Sparta, of all claims to the throne, and recognition by the new king of the legality of the state of affairs resulting from the Saloniki revolution.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Paris, Oct. 27.—Complicated problems must be solved before the situation arising from the death of King Alexander of Greece is satisfactorily adjusted, it is said in well informed circles in this city.

"Nobody knows how the dynastic troubles will be settled," announces Jacques Rougon, the foreign editor of the Figaro. "Premier Venizelos knows where he is going but he keeps his own counsel, as always. Will he confront Europe with the accomplished fact? If Prince Paul accepts the Greek crown, it will be the consent of his parents and probably under their influence and guidance. Premier Venizelos has bitter enemies. If he is generally supported by the population of new Greece, old Greece does not always give him spontaneous confidence. However, clever he may be, there are certain perils he cannot avert."

It is pointed out here that it is not necessary that a son of King Constantine become king of Greece. It could be the throne in the dynasty. King Constantine has four brothers, all of whom might be looked upon as eligible. They are Prince Christopher, who recently married Mrs. W. B. Leeds, an American woman; Prince George, whose wife was Marie, daughter of Prince Roland Bonaparte; Prince Nicolas, who married Grand Duchess Helene of Russia, and Prince Andre, who married Princess Alice of Battenberg.

CONSTANTINE'S ATTITUDE.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, Oct. 27.—Former King Constantine of Greece continues to maintain the attitude that he is occupant of the Greek throne, says a dispatch to the London Times from its Lucerne correspondent. It is uncertain whether he will consent to the accession of his son, Prince Paul, who is better known to the inhabitants of Lucerne as an excellent dancer than a student of international politics, the dispatch asserts.

It is understood no formal invitation to accept the throne has been received by Prince Paul, and none is expected, pending action by the Greek parliament.

Former Queen Sophia, who received news of the death of her son, King Alexander, yesterday morning, is prostrated with grief. Constantine appears to be agitated and is suffering insomnia since the inception of his son's illness.

Today's Market Report

Fresh Advances in Grain Market Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 27.—Fresh advances in the price of wheat took place today on general buying which was chiefly ascribed to notice taken of the farm strike and to yesterday's large export business. Rainy weather which might further retard rural deliveries was also apparently a bullish influence in this connection. The stock of wheat in Chicago today stood at 700,000 bushels and that of other grains was meager, about 20 cars. Opening prices which varied from unchanged figures to 1 1/2c higher, were followed by substantial gains all around and then something of a reaction.

Corn sympathized with the strength of wheat, opening 1/2c to 1 1/4c higher, including Dec. 20c to 23 1/2c. After a short reaction it tended to sag. Oats were firm with other grain and started 1/2c to 3/4c higher, Dec. 5 1/2c to 5 3/4c. Additional gains were scored and a moderate setback followed.

Provisions lacked support, despite the upturn of cereals and higher quotations on hogs. Subsequently, slowness of new export demand together with uncertainty regarding settlement of the British coal strike had decided bearish effect. The wheat market closed weak 2 1/2c to 3 1/2c, net lower, with Dec. 2.06 to 2.08 1/2c and March 2.00 to 2.02 1/2c. Toward the last, the downturn in the wheat market were reflected by corn. Prices closed heavy, 1/2c to 3/4c lower, with Dec. 8 1/2c to 8 3/4c.

imperialism, no matter where it shows itself. The spirit of imperialism is absolutely opposed to free government, to the safe life of free nations, to the development of peaceful industry and to the completion of it. Righteous processes of civilization seem to me, and I think it to show the way that it is our duty to show the way to the achievement of lasting peace.

No one who opposes the ratification of the treaty of Versailles and the adoption of the covenant of the League of Nations has proposed any other adequate of bringing about settled peace. There is no other available or possible means and this means is ready to hand. They have, on the contrary tried to persuade you that the whole of the present is itself a threat of war. It is, on the contrary, an assurance of the concert of all the free peoples of the world in the future, as in the recent past, to see justice done and humanity protected and vindicated.

This is the true, the real Americanism. This is the role of leadership and championship of the right which the leaders of the republic intended that it should play. The so-called Americanism which we hear so much of is a mere name and is a mere name of action that now underlies every other, the fate of parties is a matter of indifference. Parties are significant now in this contest only because the voters must make up their minds which most is likely to secure their indispensable results.

The nation was never called upon to make a more solemn determination of the future must now make. The whole future moral force of right in the world depends upon the United States rather than upon any other nation, and it would be pitiful indeed, if after so many great free peoples had entered the great league we should hold aloof. I suggest that the candidacy of every candidate for whatever office be tested by this question, shall we or shall we not redeem the great moral obligations of the United States?

"IT WAS A BLESSING" SAYS ST. JOSEPH WONAN

Mrs. Josephine Buschman Gains Twenty Pounds By Taking Tanlac and is Now Enjoying the Best of Health.

"A short time ago I had little hopes of ever getting any better, but today I weigh twenty pounds more than I did and haven't felt so well and strong in many years," said Mrs. Josephine Buschman, 911 North Fourth street, St. Joseph, Mo.

"My health began to fall about two years ago and it looked like everything was wrong with me. My kidneys were badly disordered and I had a continual pain across the small of my back, and at times was hardly able to get up or down. My liver was sluggish, my circulation was so poor that my hands and feet stayed cold and numb nearly all the time and often swelled up terribly. I had indigestion and ate so little I fell off in weight a great deal. Gas would form on my stomach and bloat me up and often I had spells of dizziness. I just dragged myself around the house and often had to stop and lie down. I could never sleep well at night and in spite of everything I could do I was gradually growing weaker.

"I will always bless the day I started taking Tanlac. My kidneys and liver are both in splendid condition now and my back no longer pains me. I have a fine appetite and can eat just whatever I please without any fear of suffering afterwards. I'm not troubled with dizzy spells now, my lost weight and strength have returned and I feel so much better in every way I can do my housework with as much ease as I could years ago."

Tanlac is sold in Dixon by the Public Drug & Book Co., and by the leading druggists in every town.

WHY POLITICS AFFECTS YOUR HOME

BY

MAUD WOOD PARK
(Chairman National League of Women Voters.)

MOTHERS OF THE NATION

American womanhood has answered the age-old query "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Millions of American women have endorsed the Shepherd-Towner bill providing federal protection for maternity and infancy and have massed together that they may help secure its enactment for the mothers and children of the nation.

Twenty-three thousand mothers each year give their lives for the little lives they bring into the world and nearly a quarter of a million babies under one year of age die annually, and the most of these deaths are preventable!

One of the measures of justice for which the League of Women Voters is working is to save to the nation these mothers and children, healthy and strong. Is it not worth while?

It is a national need—conserving the health and lives of those citizens and mothers of citizens. Women the country over are profoundly interested in the enactment of the Shepherd-Towner bill, which provides federal co-operation with the states for instruction in the hygiene of maternity and infancy and for nursing and medical aid where necessary.

These provisions will directly touch the women and children who are at need this legislation and who are at least able to speak for themselves.

The Congress has appropriated hundreds of millions of dollars for our commercial, agricultural and animal welfare. In the last 20 years the typhoid and diphtheria rates have been cut more than half; tuberculosis has been markedly reduced, but there has been no decrease in the maternal death rates! Now with the startling figures of the children's bureau to shame them into action, and national sentiment to urge them on, the House and senate will drag up the Shepherd-Towner bill once Congress convenes in December.

Bring a definite part to play in securing the enactment of this law. Show your senators, and your representatives that the sentiment of your district is earnestly and solidly for this law. They are there as your representatives. See that they carry out the wishes of their constituents.

And see that this annual wastage, more than three times as great as the total death list in the World War, is stopped. You can stop it. It is up to you.

Here is the recipe for America's First Election Cake

In Hartford, Conn., over a hundred years ago, some demure ancestress baked her first election cake. She couldn't vote but she knew her man and used her power to influence him in the way she would have him go.

Today we are planning to do our own voting. But at that it may be just as necessary to charm somebody with man-size piece of cake as it was in the past. Men are made most susceptible at the sight of food.

The original recipe for election cake called for brandy and wine. Now we "substitute" lemon juice.

ELECTION CAKE

5 cups flour

2 1/2 cups sugar

2 eggs

1 cup butter

1/4 cup lard

2 cups milk

1/4 cup yeast

1 cup raisins

1 cup citron

1/2 nutmeg

1 tablespoon cinnamon

2 tablespoons lemon juice

Cream shortening and sugar. Warm milk and stir into flour. Mix this with first mixture. Add yeast. Add eggs well beaten. Beat well and let rise in a warm place all night. In the morning add fruit which has been floured and spiced. Beat well. Put into buttered and floured loaf cake pans and let rise double its bulk. Bake an hour in a slow oven. This will make three large loaves.

Election cake is the sort of cake most men like—dark, substantial and not too sweet. Age improves the taste. It should be made at least a week before wanted for use.

The yeast may seem rather an unknown quantity to the modern housekeeper, but yeast made with a compressed yeast cake is simple to make and requires no hops or fussing.

Dissolve a yeast cake in 1/4 cup of lukewarm water. This will make the necessary 1/4 cup of yeast.

Talking about ward leaders, think of the vote Mr. Solomon could have controlled with his many wives!

One Ballot Isn't Enough in Chicago

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 27.—A facsimile of the huge ballot upon which voters will place their marks next Tuesday was reproduced today in newspapers. The ballot is almost a yard square and political experts believed it to be the largest in the history of organized politics in the United States.

The actual measure of the ballot is 30 by 34 inches, and it contains only the names of the candidate for presidential electors, congressional legislative and county candidates. In addition Chicago voters will be handed two smaller sheets, one containing the names of the candidates for municipal judge and the other containing the municipal proposition, which include a "fifty ward" bill, aldermanic term of office question and a referendum on the daylight saving bill.

Forty-six trucks will be used in delivering the ballots to the precincts here.

Preparing for one hundred and twenty million meals with Karo Maple for 1921

Last year American housewives bought over five million cans of Karo Maple. Delicious flavor, moderate price and wise buying.

Do you know that the makers of Karo Maple are the world's largest users of the purest and best flavored maple sugar?

That over a thousand tons of maple sugar from the finest maple groves in Vermont and Canada are used each year to make Karo Maple?

Karo Maple is pure and wholesome—its flavor is not an imitation.

Yet the price is so moderate that you can afford to serve it at every meal.

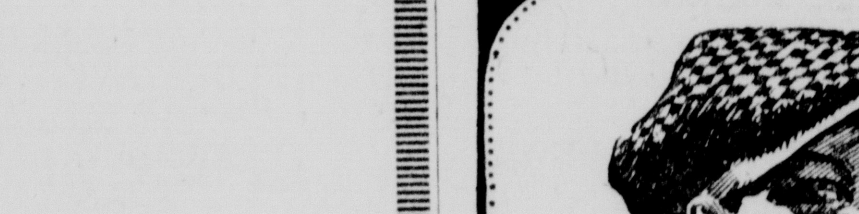

Try it just once, on some nice hot waffles, or brown pancakes. Or as a spread for bread or crisp toast.

If Karo Maple isn't the most satisfying syrup you ever tasted, at the most satisfying price you ever paid for a similar syrup, return the balance of the can and the grocer will refund your money.

LOW PRICES

It has been tried before!

Other years farmers have seen the buying power bear down prices just when the food producer is upon the threshold of the market. And as often he sees those same buyers boast prices immediately after getting their hands upon the food, wheat, meat, vegetables—whenever the farmer has sold.

The result always was hard times
in farms.

Hard times there means less buying power for millions of Americans.

Lack of farm buying power means fewer city goods sold to rural customers. This, in turn, makes for unemployment in cities.

The city consumer does not benefit
by these annual harvest price drops.
The retailer is not buying directly from the producer. He is buying from the middleman, who, by the way, is the only man getting a profit out of the autumn price manipulation.

But the loss in rural buying power does affect the city man. It throws many city workers out of jobs.

Only a few reap the profit—those who depress prices to buy and increase them to sell.

The many reap the losses—the producers in field and factory.

And this woeful weakness in the marketing system has been revealed year after year.

THE BIG WIND

When elderly Irishmen are assembled for friendly discussion, they frequently refer, in fixing dates, as before or after the night of the big wind. Many younger people take that phrase as a mere figure of speech, without much real meaning. They are mistaken.

The fact is that "the night of the big wind" was a real occurrence. It occurred in Ireland starting on the night of Jan. 6, 1850. Its force was so great that hundreds of houses were razed and ruined. And after the wind had accomplished a part of the destruction, fire, fanned into a roaring tempest, did the rest. Dublin was a terrible sufferer.

It was a storm of herculean proportions. Yet all old Irishmen knew it by other name than the big wind, and they, and their sons and their grandsons, still so refer to it.

Of course, the great-great-grandsons of these kindly sires might refer to it as "Some blow" just as some fellow described the Grand Canyon as
"Some Hole," but not the old folks.

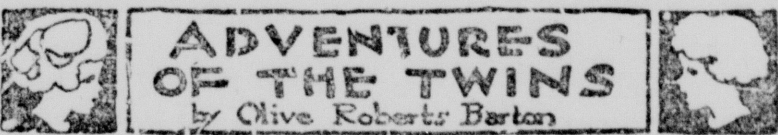

GIDDAP!

Yes, yes, go along with statistics on the faithful horse. The fact that he has increased, together with his coun-in, the mule, from 24,000,000 in 1910 to 27,500,000 in 1920, despite a total war shipment of 2,500,000 overseas, sounds all right, but just the same it's the auto salesmen whose wives have the big fur coats.

But wait a minute, mister. Almost anyone would have talked just like that until the Master Horsehoers' Association met in solemn convocation in Chicago early this fall. But when the village smiths talk about the college courses in their art, the study of anatomy as relating to peak loads, and the like, you are likely to have one more preconceived notion given a violent jar.

It costs 17 cents a hundred pounds
to transport goods by motor truck within a radius of six miles, and eight cents every time the motor stops. By horse it costs six and two-third cents
a hundred pounds, and when the horse

BRINGING UP FATHER.

THE STRANGE PRIZE

When Scamper Squirrel threw a stone at the big gray ball on the willow tree, and hit it right in the middle (you know the Meadow Grove picnickers were having games), the ball went "Bzzzzzz!" like an electric buzzer. And Nick shouted, "You hit the bull's-eye."

"Oh, cried everybody in admiration when the ball went 'Bzzzzzzz!'
again, even more loudly than before.

"Ouch!" screamed the squirrel boy, jumping into the air.

"You've won the prize, Scamper.
Nick give him the prize."

"I can't, for I don't have it," said Nick. "You see the prize is a secret and to be given by some unknown person." And he read them the note he had received that morning which said that the best thrower would receive something most unusual. But, there wasn't any name signed to the note at all.

Well, everybody was so much interested in the prize and what it was going to be, that no one noticed a steps all you have to do is holler gid-dap.

That's the kind of scientific talk the horsehoers give. Fifty thousand dollars has been spent to establish a school of horsehoering at Cornell.
They admit that the spreading chestnut tree wouldn't recognize the modern smith, but they are just as insistent that still "the smith a mighty man is he."

SOMEONE WHO CARES

A little girl stands on a suburban corner, one hand clasping that of a little tad in rompers, the other holding a lunch basket.

A car comes along and stops. The conductor runs out and kisses the girl
and lifts the little boy to hug him.

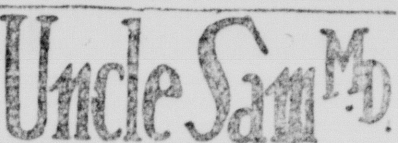

He whistles as the car rolls on.
"Yours?" asks a passenger. "Yep," he answers. There is pride in his voice. The joy of life seems to be in him as he pursues his tasks.

Some one cares. A woman who picks his lunch. Little children who stand and wait to be loved.

Some one who cares—that is what puts the joy in life for all of us. That is the thing that lightens burdens, that drives us on in our work, that makes life itself worth-while.

The batting average in the world series is fair but the batting average is nil.

As the cost of living goes down, the undertakers reduce prices so you can't enjoy both benefits.

SHOES.

Shoes are designed to protect the foot, not to support it. Most people wear shoes too tight; nearly all women do. Too loose a shoe is better than too tight a one, but is, nevertheless, undesirable.

The shoe should provide room enough for the toes to work, and should be so shaped as to permit the foot to work without distortion.

The best shoe is one which is straight or practically straight on the inside line, thus avoiding the twisting out of the great toe so common in usual shoes. It should be long enough to clear the toes, and fit about the heel, over the instep, and under the wise to change abruptly. Soles should be solid.

The very light soles of many women's shoes are responsible for the concave sole that gives interior arch trouble, and are, at best, an insufficient protection to the foot.

The best type of shoe is one constructed somewhat along the lines of the army last. Men can get such shoes easily; for women it is less easy.

The orthopedic shoe, while theoretically good, is not the practical choice
—for few women will wear such a shoe. Some houses carry "modified orthopedic" or "plastic" or "commonsense" lasts, which are excellent, but the important thing is not what it is called, but whether it meets the following specifications:

- 1—Straight inner line.
- 2—Sufficient length.
- 3—Sufficient room for toes.
- 4—A proper fit at heel and instep.
- 5—Not too high or too narrow a heel.

If "B." who says that she is bothered with soreness in sides, will send her name and address to Information Bureau, Public Health Service, Washington, D. C., a personal reply will be sent to her. It is not possible to reply through the column.

LUNG TROUBLE.

Q—I am engaged to a girl 22 years of age. About three months ago she told me she was spitting blood. She went to a doctor and he said it came from her lungs. Now would you advise me to marry her? Do you think she has consumption? Is there any hope for a person that spits blood from the lungs?

A—It would be advisable to find out exactly the nature of the lung trouble.
If the girl is suffering from tuberculosis, she should certainly not marry for some time to come, certainly not until the lungs have entirely healed.
It would be well to make certain, however, that the blood really comes from the lungs, for sometimes blood in sputum comes from other sources, for example, from an ulcerous nasal mucous membrane.

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

THE BOOK OF ANN.

I DECIDE IT'S "SPORTY" TO LIGHT HUSBAND'S CIGARET
—DOESN'T WORK.

While the girls gossiped, I compared Ann, Jim's bride, with Deborah,
the wife he might have had. It occurred to me that the Lorimer boys had had their pick of the finest "prospects" in the local marriage market, and yet they had made some rather unfortunate selections.

Chrys wasn't sure whether she was the wife of a Spanish duke, or not.
Whether or not, she was desperately in love with Jordan Spence, the famous surgeon, who had disappeared
when he discovered that a marriage with Miss Lorimer was impossible.

Jim was wedded to Ann, whose baby ways would probably harass him beyond endurance in a few years.
Benjie had died, leaving a baby girl whose mother he had never married.

And as for Bob, he had married me,
a poor little girl from a country college town, who, as his wife, was trying to fill a place in the world which was vastly too large for her.

And yet, when I gave my husband
the details of Ann's luncheon that evening, he said, with a great deal of pride in his voice:

"You're a regular girl, Jane!"

"You have a regular mother, my dear," I replied quickly.

"Yes—I'm a lucky man," he rejoined.
"Have a cigarette?"

Bob grinned quizzically as he extended his cigarette case to me.

"I'll light yours for you," I said,
suiting the action to the word.

Whether Bob was agreeably surprised or not, I couldn't decide. To light his cigarette seemed quite "sporty"
to me; it was a trick I had premeditated, in accordance with a big resolve I had made at Ann's party.

As the girls chattered about the "old style" of woman who was ruled by her employes, and the new style,
who were studying to know enough
to direct their own households, it occurred to me, that even so, they were not preparing for the biggest event
in their own lives.

They were going to take marriage
in just the old way!

And from the scandals at which they hinted that afternoon, it seemed to me that the old way might be improver upon.

This man was tired of his old wife,

they said; that man was frequently seen with a pretty girl no older than his daughter; so-and-so had gone to Lemo; it was the usual 1920 smart-set gossip.

Finally they coaxed Corinne Caryl
to report for them a vamp's "warning to wives" which was to be the feature of her next film play.

"Now, girls," said Corinne, when she had finished the freak decalog,
"forget all that nonsense! And when you get married, keep just one little rule in mind: Don't get monotonous!"

Mrs. Best, Ann's mother, made frequent attempts to turn the conversation into what she considered more wholesome channels, but invariably the girls returned to the eternal manand-woman topic.

"You mean that wives ought to change their plumage with the seasons?" I asked, with my eyes on one of Ann's gorgeous blue-and-gold birds.

"Wives ought to vary their fascinations with each day! That's what I'm trying to say!"

Recover Jewels and Furs From Home of Chicago Road Bandit

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Jewelry valued at $10,000 and a $1000 seal skin coat were recovered today by the police from the home of William ("Red") Barry, alleged leader of a bandit gang believed responsible for more than a hundred robberies along various "Lovers' Lanes" leading west and north out of the city.

Scores of couples held up by members of the gang identified Barry and others of the eight men and two girls arrested yesterday by the police.

End Investigation of Capper Charges

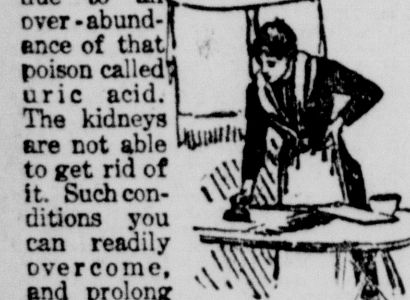

Chicago, Oct. 26.—The federal trade commission which has been investigating charges by Senator Arthur Capper and Governor H. J. Allen of Kansas that the recent slump in the wheat prices was due to manipulations of the board of trade, concluded its hearings today.

The hearings were secret and the findings were not made public. Board of trade members are said to have explained to the commission, however, that the slump was caused by public clamor for lower prices.

Have your letter heads printed by the B. F. Shaw Printing Co., Dixon, Ill.

OH, DEAR! MY BACK!

Merciful Heavens, how my back hurts in the morning! It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking

"Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from back-ache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night, get Dr. Pierce's Anuric, it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package.

ELKHART, IND.—"When I started to take Anuric the kidney excretion was thick and cloudy, sometimes I was disturbed fifteen times in one night. I am advanced in years and quite timid about taking advertised remedies, but I felt perfectly safe in taking Anuric because I had been so greatly helped by Dr. Pierce's other remedies. I took one package and my rest at night is unbroken, and consequently my general health is greatly improved."—MRS. S. J. ANDERSON, 200 Marion Street.

Charges Effort to Hurt Prohib. Ticket

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—Rumors calculated to injure the prohibition state and national ticket are being circulated in Indiana to the effect that the party will have no ticket in the field. J. Raymond Schmidt, campaign manager for Aaron A. Watkins, Prohibition candidate for president said in a statement here today.

TO WINTER IN SOUTH

Col. W. B. Brinton expects to leave about the 29th of next month for Chandler, Arizona, to spend the winter. He will close his home in this city during that time, and announces he will leave the key to the cellar hanging outside.

Bandit Assassin of Policeman Killed By Patrolman's Comrades

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Patrol Sergeant Edward Marpool was killed early today by an unidentified bandit who later met death after fighting four pitched battles with police. Marpool, answering a call, met two bandits and was killed before he could draw his gun. Three hundred policemen drew a cordon around the district and took up the hunt for the sergeant's slayer. Several hot fights followed. When firing ceased and the police advanced they found the bandit lying dead in a vacant lot.

L. W. Newcomer is spending the week in Chicago.

Charge Sylvia Had Letter to Lenine

London, Oct. 26.—Sensational charges were made in Bow street police court against a mysterious man of undivulged nationality, whom, the government attorney declared, has been acting between members of revolutionary circles in this country and the Russian revolutionists. The government attorney said that among the letters found on the accused was one from Sylvia Pankhurst to Nikolai Lenine, premier of Soviet Russia, saying: "The situation is most acute; not ready for revolution yet."

The accused declined to answer questions put to him. He was remanded for a week.
